

Nancy Greene Developmental Race Program

The Nancy Greene Developmental Race Program is an entry-level program for children aged 6-11 years old. Kell Antoft founded this successful program in 1968 after Nancy Greene won gold at the Grenoble Olympics. The Nancy Greene Program operates all across Canada and has a history of creating lasting memories and excellent skiers. Many of Ontario's brightest ski stars began their careers as young Nancy Greene racers.

Emphasis is placed on fostering a love for the sport while developing the FUNDamental skills required for becoming a competent skier. This program incorporates the Alpine Canada Husky Snow Stars program. This seven-step program guides coaches and parents through the appropriate skill progression for each child.
